Marcy R. Harris President's Message

How lucky I am to begin serving as President of Westchester Reform Temple! This is my spiritual home – I raised my family here, celebrated lifecycle events here, laughed, cried, prayed and dreamed here. And I hope to continue doing all those things at WRT with my family, and with yours, in this New Year, 5778, and in the years to come.

Much has been written about the challenges facing synagogues today, as the number of affiliated Jews declines and people look outside organized religious communities to find meaning and connection in their lives. While WRT is not immune from those challenges, our response to them has made us stronger: we've opened our doors wider, and found new ways to be welcoming and inclusive. We've taken our members and our message outside of WRT, to Israel, the Deep South, NYC, and our nation's capital, to name just a few places where WRT congregants and clergy this year have traveled, learned and shared meaningful Jewish moments together.

There will be many more opportunities to build community and create enduring Jewish memories together. This Bulletin offers a glimpse into the vibrancy and richness of WRT, where, on a daily basis, our talented clergy help us discover the wisdom and beauty of our traditions and ways to bring those gifts into our own lives.

Read on, dream on, sign up, walk in. Join me in making WRT your spiritual home in 5778. I know you won't be disappointed.

Wishing you and your loved ones a Happy and Sweet New Year!

Rabbi Blake's Message

Dear Friends,

One can never enter the same river twice, observed the Greek philosopher Heraclitus, because that person is no longer the same person, and the river is no longer the same river.

And so it is with the river of time. Another year has come and gone, and we return to these Days of Awe. But we are not the same, and the holidays—comforting though they may feel with their old familiar melodies and words—are not the same, and—to say the least—the world, this year of all years, is not the same.

Still, to this place and this time we return, and how meaningful and necessary it will be, this Rosh HaShanah and Yom Kippur, to fill the halls of our beloved WRT with our voices and our bodies, our yearnings and longings, our dreams and hopes for a new year.

If you have recently joined our congregation, please allow me to extend a heartfelt welcome on behalf of WRT's clergy, professional team, and congregation. We already feel blessed by your presence and look forward to making you feel embraced in your new spiritual home. Please take a moment to introduce yourselves to me, my colleagues, and your fellow congregants during the Holidays. We will also go out of our way to help you feel at home, knowing that for you, things may indeed feel more different than the same as the new year begins—and that “beginnings,” as the Talmud says, “are always difficult.”

As we mark the new year 5778, we acknowledge with gratitude that in the coming year, WRT will turn 65. Many of our founding generation have gone to their eternal rest, but still many remember our earliest days as a fledgling congregation responding to the influx of Jewish families to Scarsdale and central Westchester in the 1950s. Our longest-standing congregants testify to the ways in which the calendar may read the same days and months, feast-days and fast-days, year after year; but the river of time flows on ceaselessly, and change is dramatic when measured by decades.

We have grown, over these 65 years, from eight founding families to a congregation almost 1,200 households strong. Despite what the number “65” may conjure up in most of our minds, we are nowhere in a “retiring” state of mind!

In fact, our congregation has never felt more vibrant. This year we will debut a new model of education for our youth and families. We are thrilled to announce the launch of WRT's Jewish Learning Lab (JLL), headed by Rabbi Levy in his capacity as Jewish Learning Lab Director. We celebrate the leadership of our new temple President, Marcy Harris, who assumes this sacred and demanding responsibility after many years of service on our Board of Trustees and Executive Committee. Marcy, her husband John, and their sons Andrew and Justin have affiliated with WRT for 26 years. We look forward to the wisdom and wealth of experience that Marcy will bring to her new leadership role, and we are immensely grateful for her energy, enthusiasm, and commitment.

Please plan to celebrate WRT at 65 with us. Over the weekend of April 13-15, 2018, we will honor our history and our legacy in a gala weekend of festivities, learning, worship, and community-building. This weekend will highlight our synagogue's place in the wider Reform Movement. Our rabbi emeritus and President of the Union for Reform Judaism, Rabbi Rick Jacobs, will join us, as will our congregant Rabbi Aaron Panken, President of the Hebrew Union College—Jewish Institute of Religion, alongside Rabbi David Stern, who grew up here as the son of our own Rabbi Jack Stern of blessed memory. Rabbi Stern the younger now serves as the President of the Central Conference of American Rabbis—a distinction held by his late father and grandfather, Rabbi Jacob Philip Rudin of blessed memory. We also will welcome familiar faces from WRT's past, and special guests including Anat Hoffman, celebrated director of the Israel Religious Action Center—a tireless advocate for justice in the Jewish state. The weekend will be one for the ages! So save the dates: April 13-15, 2018, to celebrate WRT at 65.

How best to describe Westchester Reform Temple, then, on the cusp of a new year? Your still point in a reeling world. Your touchstone for the Jewish world beyond our building. Your source of Jewish pride, Jewish inspiration, and Jewish wisdom.

Your home.

L'Shanah Tovah!

High Holidays

The High Holidays at WRT bring our entire congregation together in joyful connection and re-connection. Think of it as our annual family reunion! These 10 Days of Awe invigorate our spiritual core through Teshuva (repentance), Tefila (prayer), and Tzedakah (righteous giving and living). We leave the experience of the Days of Awe more deeply connected to one another as a community, more in touch with the themes of our tradition. Music both intimate and soaring, and wisdom that nourishes both mind and heart, will complement and enrich our prayer experience.

Our clergy and volunteer leadership are especially eager to meet you during the holidays and to invite you into a deeper relationship with WRT. This year, please take a moment to meet our talented clergy team: Rabbi Jonathan E. Blake, Cantor Jill Abramson, Rabbi David E. Levy, Cantor Amanda Kleinman, Rabbi Daniel Reiser, Cantor Mia Fram Davidson, and Rabbinic Intern Eliana Fischel.

From all of us at WRT, we wish you a sweet and satisfying conclusion to 5777 and a hopeful and happy welcome to 5778 when we gather in September.

B'shalom u'vrakha — with peace and blessing,

Rabbi Jonathan Blake

Main Sanctuary services: This service is recommended for adults and children ages 10 and older. Enhanced by our professional choir and instrumentalists, our worship experience utilizes the Reform Movement's recently published High Holiday prayer book, Mishkan HaNefesh, and features a sermon.

Family services: Led by our clergy, this prayer service is designed for elementary school-aged children and their families, and features a story in lieu of a sermon. The evening service features our professional Israeli band and incorporates "visual worship," with words and images projected on a large digital display. The morning service utilizes our own WRT family-friendly High Holiday prayer book.

Tot services: Preschool-aged children and their families will love celebrating the High Holidays at this bite-sized service, led by our clergy and featuring sing-along songs and stories.

Parking: We will once again arrange for off-site parking, and two comfortable Shuttle Buses from the Scarsdale Pool. Shuttle buses will be available for all evening and daytime services, for both Holidays.

Security: Have your Entrance Cards and Photo ID (for adults) ready to show at the entry. If you don't bring your Entrance Cards or Photo ID, you will be diverted to the Temple Office for identification and to have replacement Entrance Cards printed for you. Leave bags and packages at home. All bags and packages will be inspected. This will take time, and may result in our needing to place them in an alternative location. Please avoid bringing unnecessary items into the building.

New this year... Additional Entrance Cards and changes can be made at the Temple from Tuesday, September 5 to Tuesday, September 19, between the hours of 4:00-6:00 pm (week days only.) Weekend hours will not be available, so please plan accordingly.

The Bible as Literature

Led by Rabbi Daniel Reiser

Tuesday, November 28 at 11:30 am

The Bible has been referred to as the world's best selling, least read book. Many of us have a passing familiarity with the Bible's most famous stories—Jonah, who was swallowed by a fish, or Esther, who saved her people from destruction. But beneath these simple plot lines lies a sophisticated literary artistry. In this two-part course, we will study the Book of Jonah and the Book of Esther, with an eye towards their literary character. In so doing, we will hope to discover the complexities of motive and ambiguities of character that are essential not only to good literature, but to the human experience. Additional class dates are December 5, 12, 19, February 27, March 6 and 13.

Shabbat in Jerusalem

Led by Yoel Magid

While we all know Jerusalem through windows of religion, politics, antiquities, and ethnic conflict, Yoel Magid's four Shabbat classes this year will discuss "The Other Jerusalem": how secular Israeli writers use Jerusalem to open the door of contemporary Israeli character and identity.

Come to our fascinating Shabbat discussions that will draw on Yoel's expertise as a brilliant teacher of literature and his decades of experience living in Israel.

Saturday, November 4, from 11:15 am to 12:45 pm

Is it raining in Jerusalem? Israel's most celebrated writer, Amos Oz, explores Jerusalem and the changing personality of Zionism in his early novel My Michael, his autobiographical A Tale of Love and Darkness, and his most recent novel Judas.

Saturday, November 11, from 11:15 am to 12:45 pm

David Grossman, winner of the 2017 Man Booker prize, writes about growing up and running through (and away from) Jerusalem: "A dog runs through the streets, a boy runs after it. A long rope connects the two and gets tangled in the legs of the passersby who grumble and gripe." —(opening of Someone to Run With).

And save the dates for our Spring 2018 classes: May 5 and May 19. Jerusalem as viewed by A.B. Yehoshua, Yehuda Amichai, and other Israeli writers.

WRT BASKETBALL

Most of you know that there is a fun and less structured type of basketball league in Westchester County. It's named Westchester Jewish Basketball League (WJBL).

It began almost 30 years ago, and still is coordinated by Jill Caslin. Her goal was to have teams from 5th through 12th grade participate in the league. Every synagogue can enter teams in any and all divisions. Temple b'ball or "Jew ball" has been an outlet for play in addition to Tri-County and recreational basketball at the various schools.

I began coaching my boys in this league many years ago. After they went on to play varsity, I continued to assist Jill with the administrative duties of the league. My role is also to coordinate teams from our temple, WRT. Last year WRT had 18 teams playing in all divisions. Ten years ago, that number was half. Today, WJBL has a total of 85 teams with over 900 children playing. The league is open for boys and girls, although most teams are boys only.

One of the benefits is that many parents get an opportunity to coach their children and others in a very relaxed atmosphere. This has become a bonding experience as 5th grade coaches usually continue to coach their teams through 12th grade. The coaches and children always remember their fun days playing in Jew-ball when the final season ends. The process of organizing teams will begin in late September. The season starts around Thanksgiving and ends in late February. The WRT Men's Club has been the proud sponsor of this program from its inception. We thank all of the WRT parents who have coached throughout the years, and look forward to welcoming a new group of 5th grade parents to help coach for this season!

I am available to answer any questions and to sign you up.

Early Childhood Center (ECC)

Susan Tolchin
Director of ECC

WRT's ECC brings families together on a regular basis to interact with one another, become acquainted with the clergy and fellow congregants, and help build a Jewish community. We are a warm, caring and supportive environment. Within the ECC, we expose children to Jewish music, art, dance, food, stories, symbols, ritual and language. Our teachers provide meaningful experiences related to Jewish holidays, Shabbat and life-cycle events. All told, the ECC delivers a fully integrated approach to Jewish education and family life, from birth through adulthood. We continually create a community where adults and children recognize new possibilities for making the world a better place.

Since many young children are attending school for the first time, we recognize that parents too are just beginning to learn about and understand their children's education. We are committed to helping families with young children transition to a new environment while providing them with a warm, welcoming experience. Offering daytime or evening events for parents provides newcomers with a sense of belonging as they move into a new community.

Families that are new to our school are invited to meet one another over pizza and dessert. A tour of the ECC is given and children get a first glimpse of their new school.

Truck Day - Wednesday, May 23

All children in the ECC have an opportunity to view and explore trucks during a morning. A few examples of the vehicles involved are: fire engine, police car, garbage trucks, backhoes, ambulance, mail truck and the ever popular ice cream truck! (ECC children only)

WRT Cemetery Plots

WRT has plots available at Mt. Eden Cemetery in Hawthorne, N.Y., for members of the congregation and their relatives. The cost of our plots is considerably less than those available commercially in our area.

Memorial Wall Plaques

Jewish tradition provides many meaningful ways to perpetuate the memory of our dear ones: lighting yahrzeit candles, reciting Kaddish, and giving charity. Among those traditions at WRT is the placing of a stone on a memorial wall near the plaque that bears the name of a relative.

If you would like more information about purchasing a cemetery plot or a memorial plaque, contact Amy Rossberg, Pastoral Care Coordinator, at 914-468-0522.
